The background of the image is a dark, atmospheric landscape. In the foreground, there is a body of water with subtle ripples, reflecting the light from the sky. The middle ground shows a dark, silhouetted landmass or mountain range. The sky is filled with heavy, dark clouds, with a faint, horizontal band of light breaking through near the horizon, creating a dramatic and somber mood.

The Life of Noah

When the Lord saw that human wickedness was widespread on the earth and that every inclination of the human mind was nothing but evil all the time, ⁶ the Lord regretted that he had made man on the earth, and he was deeply grieved.

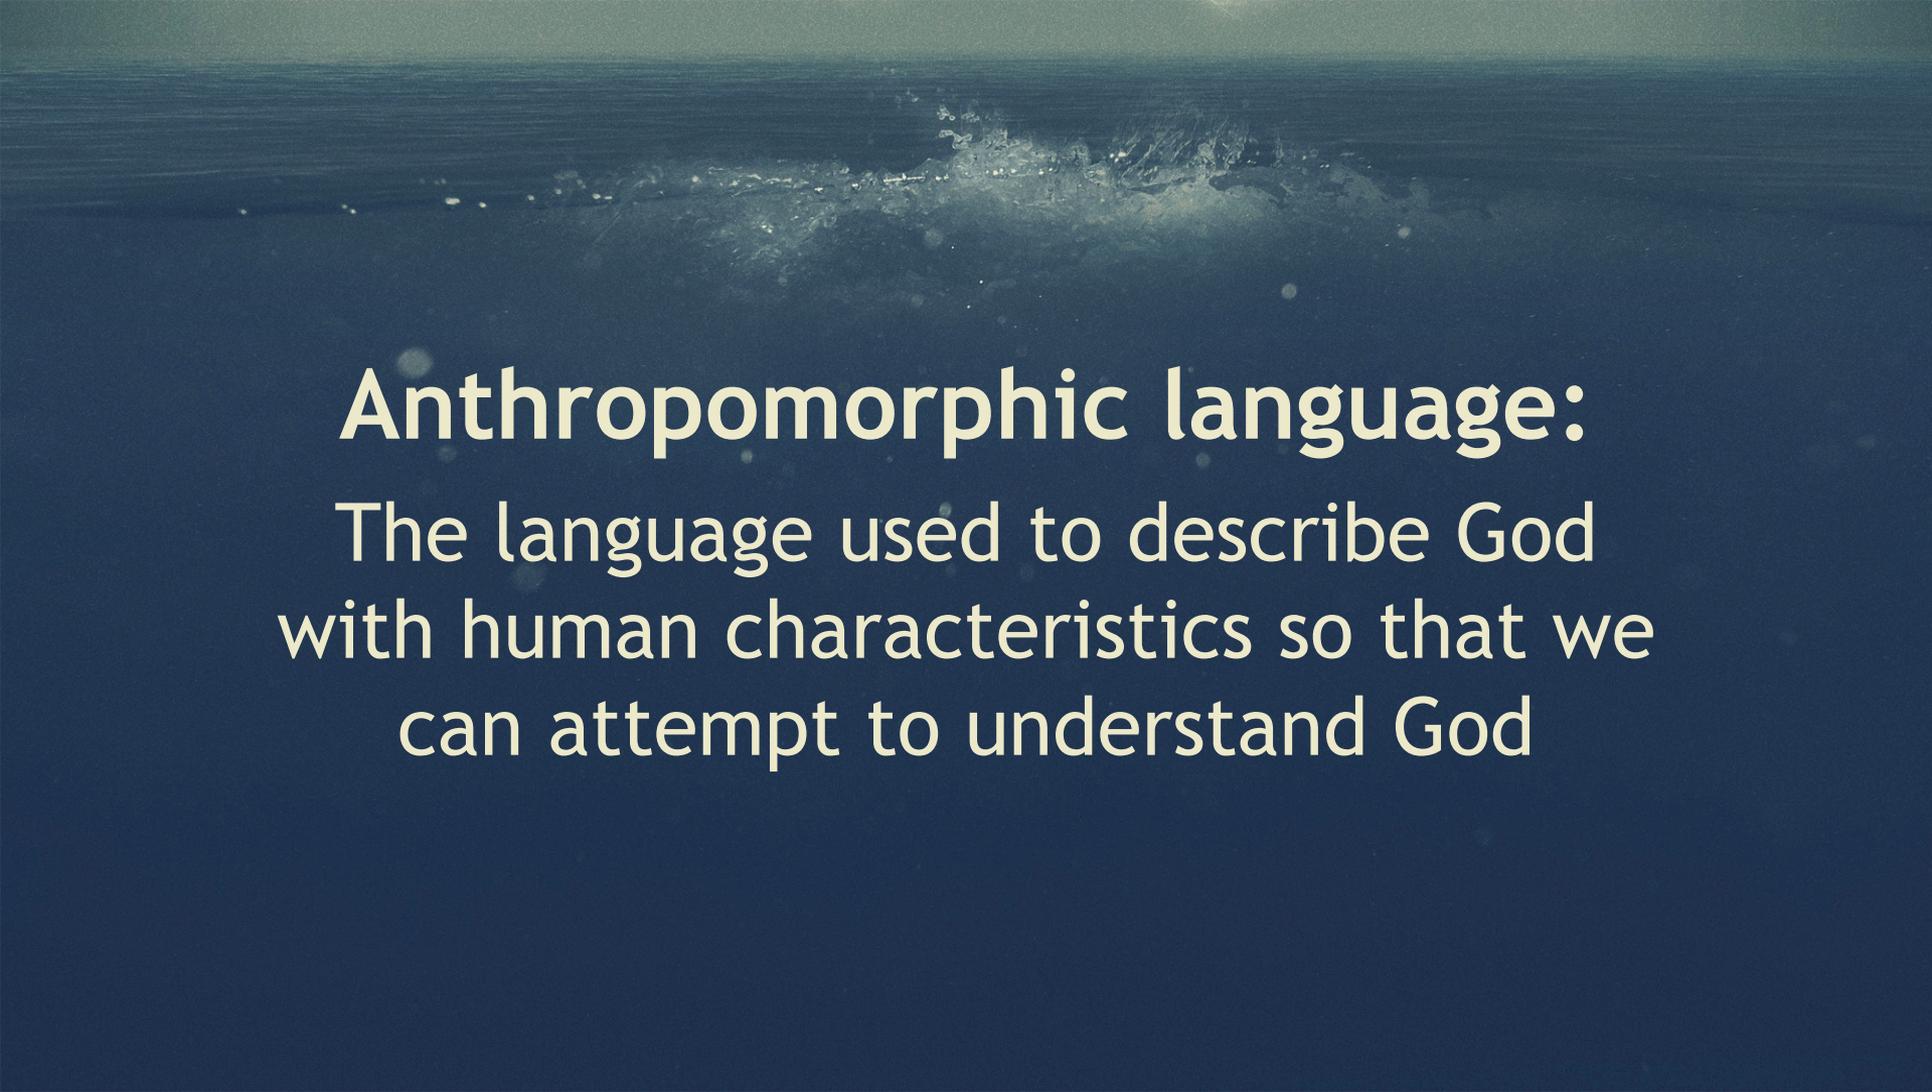

Genesis 6:5-8

⁷ Then the Lord said, “I will wipe mankind, whom I created, off the face of the earth, together with the animals, creatures that crawl, and birds of the sky—for I regret that I made them.” ⁸ Noah, however, found favor with the Lord.

Genesis 6:5-8

When the Lord saw that human wickedness was widespread on the earth and that every inclination of the human mind was nothing but evil all the time, ⁶ the Lord regretted that he had made man on the earth, and he was deeply grieved.

Genesis 6:5-6

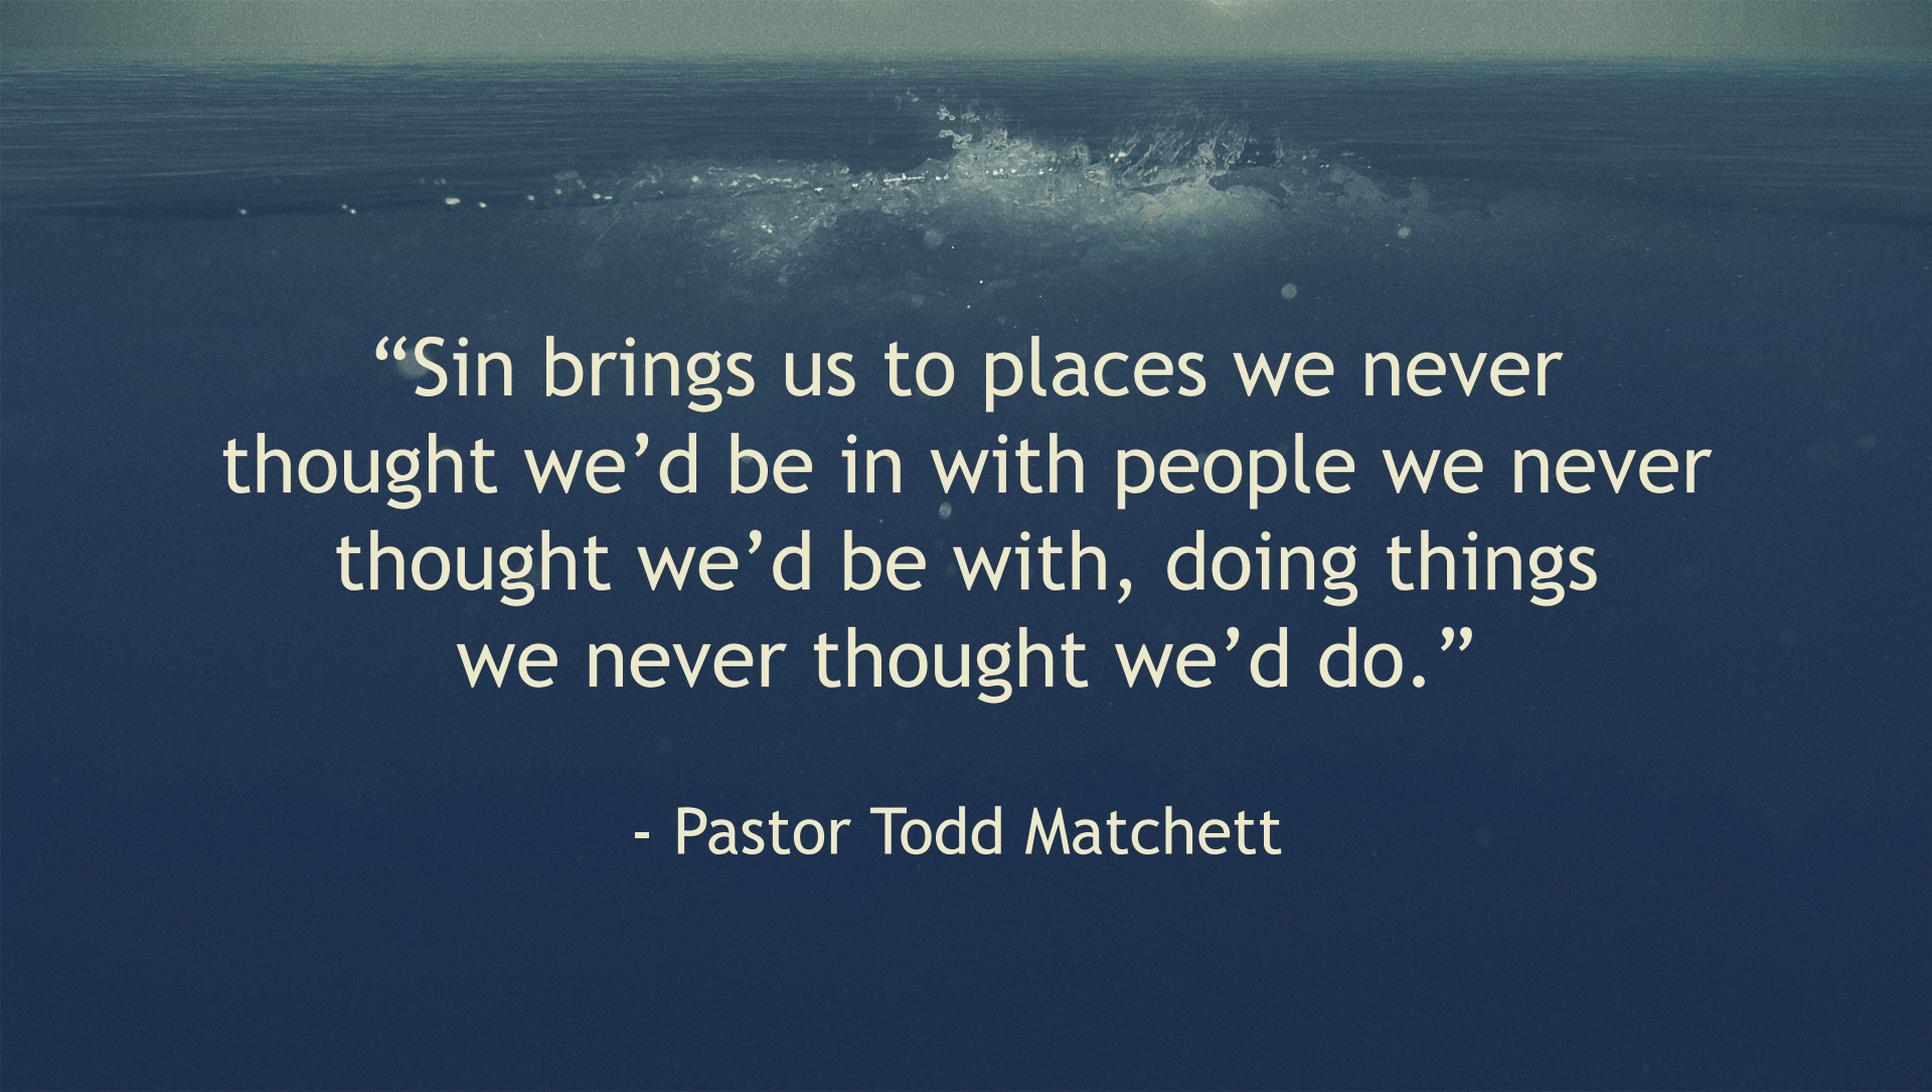

Anthropomorphic language:

The language used to describe God with human characteristics so that we can attempt to understand God

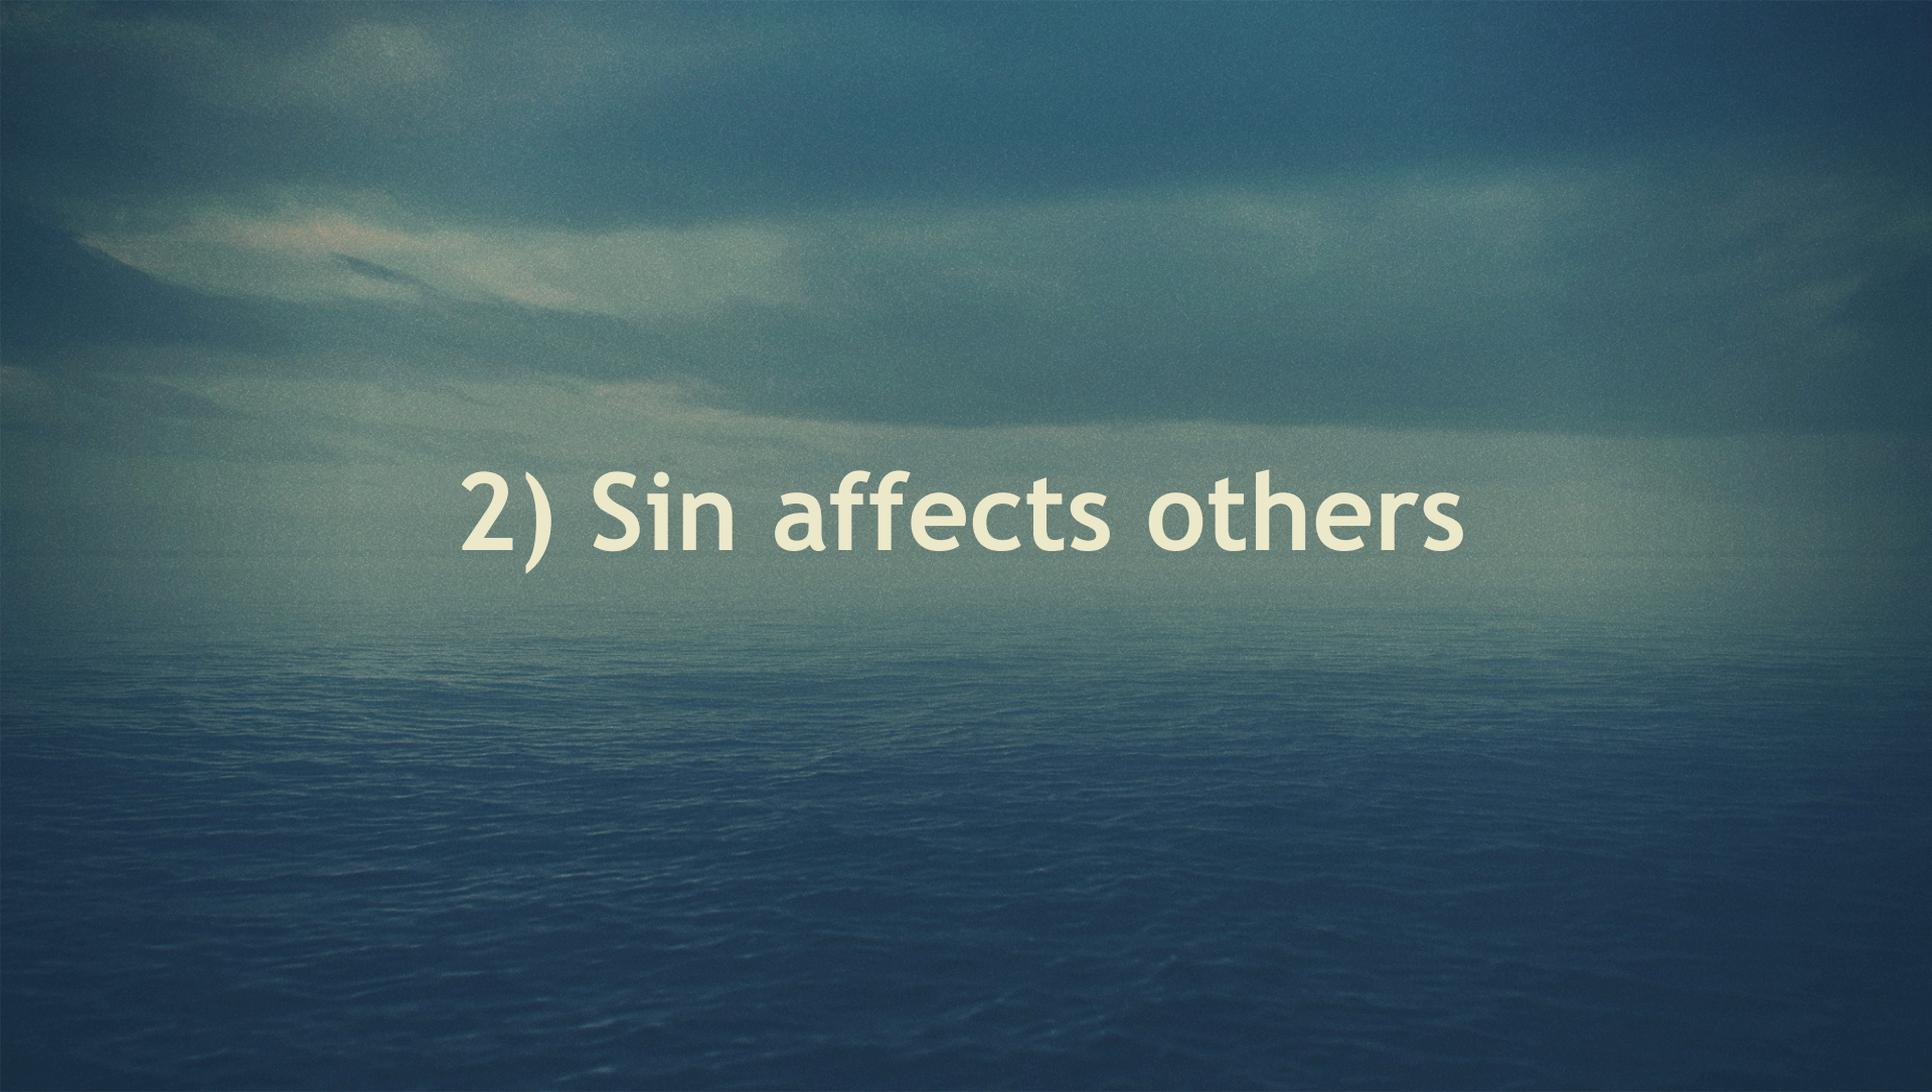

A dark, moody landscape with a body of water in the foreground and a dark, overcast sky. The water is dark blue with subtle ripples. The sky is a deep teal color with some lighter, hazy areas near the horizon. The overall atmosphere is somber and contemplative.

1) Sin affects us

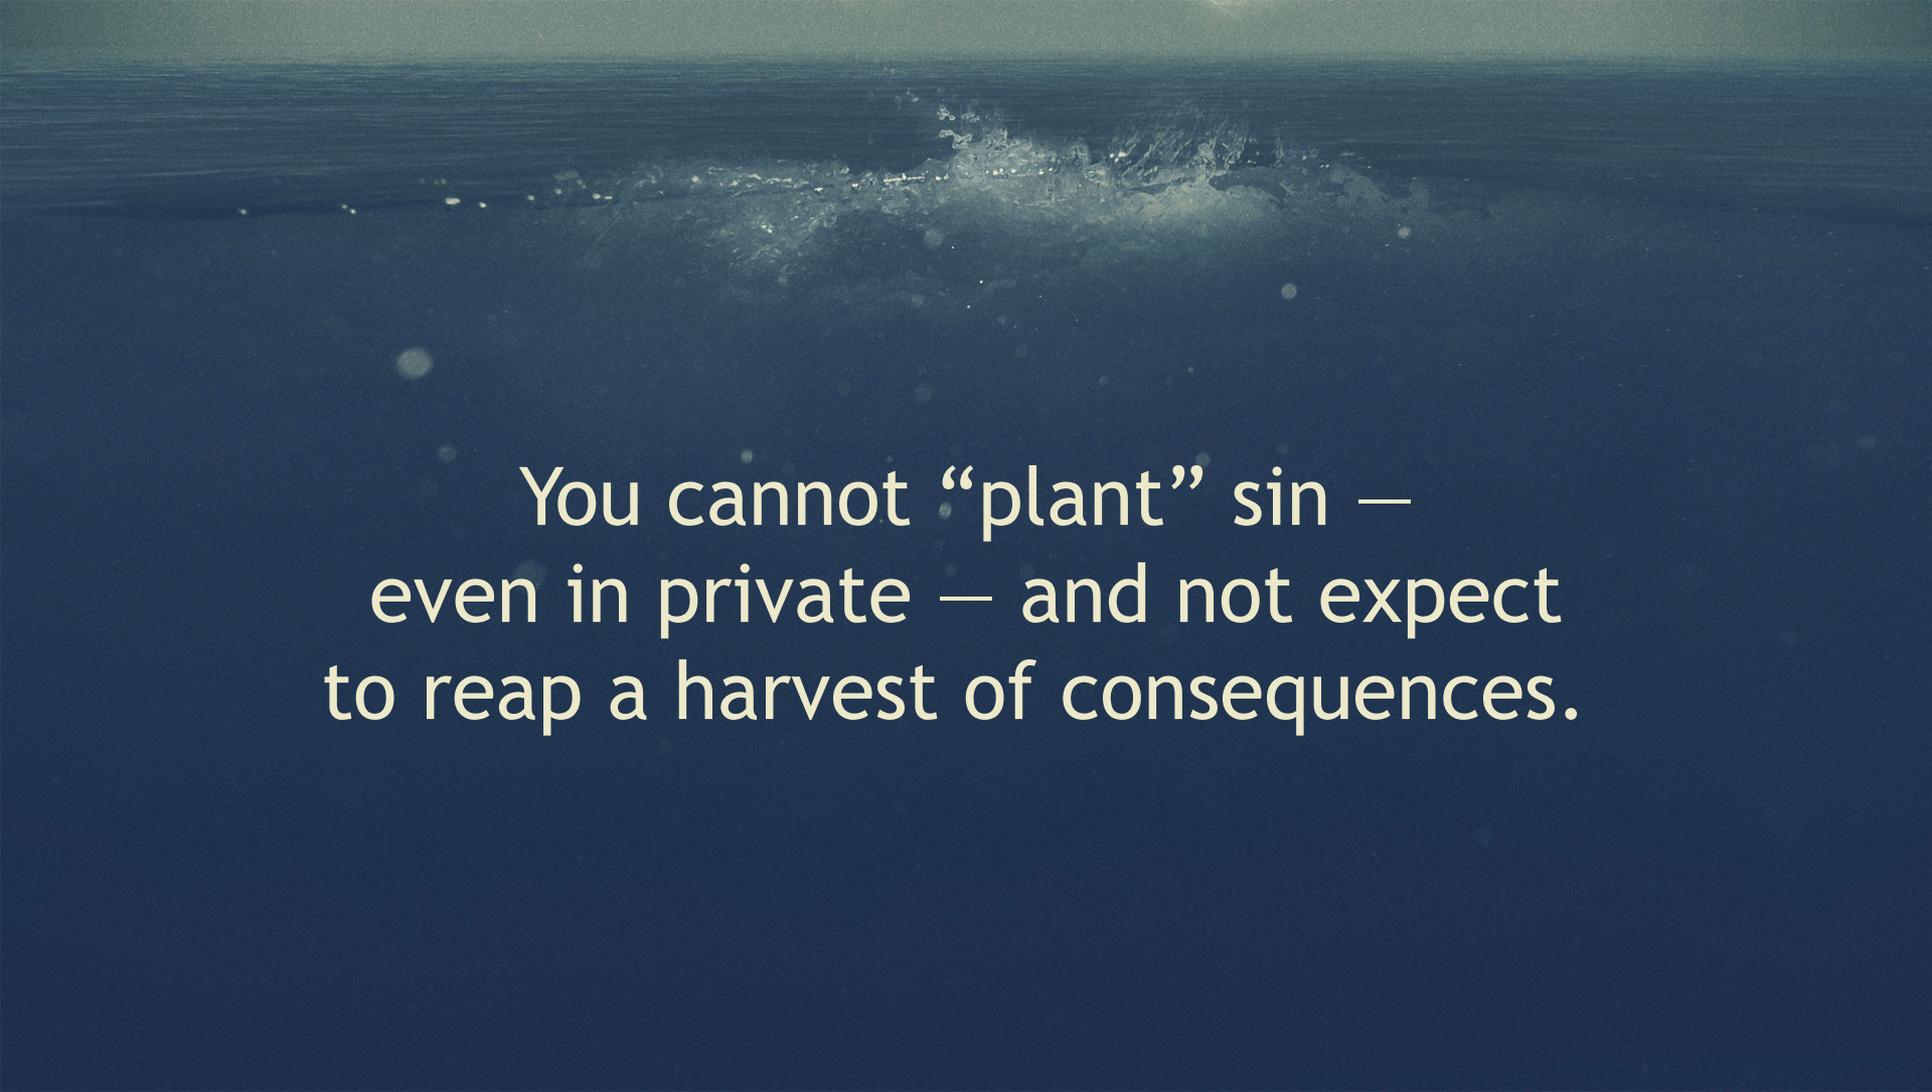

“Sin brings us to places we never thought we’d be in with people we never thought we’d be with, doing things we never thought we’d do.”

- Pastor Todd Matchett

A dark, moody landscape with a body of water in the foreground and mountains in the background under a cloudy sky. The text "2) Sin affects others" is centered in the middle of the image in a white, sans-serif font.

2) Sin affects others

You cannot “plant” sin — even in private — and not expect to reap a harvest of consequences.

The background of the slide is a dark, atmospheric landscape. The upper portion shows a sky with soft, horizontal bands of light, suggesting a sunrise or sunset over a misty or mountainous terrain. The lower portion of the image is dominated by a body of water with fine, rhythmic ripples across its surface, reflecting the ambient light. The overall color palette is muted, consisting of various shades of teal, blue, and grey.

a. Our sin affects God
Genesis 6:6

⁶ the Lord regretted that he had made man on the earth, and he was deeply grieved.

Genesis 6:6

b. Our sin affects our family

Genesis 9:24-25

²⁴ When Noah awoke from his drinking and learned what his youngest son had done to him, ²⁵ he said: Canaan is cursed. He will be the lowest of slaves to his brothers.

Genesis 9:24-25

c. Our sin affects our testimony

1 Corinthians 10:31

So, whether you eat or drink, or whatever you do, do everything for the glory of God.

1 Corinthians 10:31

A dark, moody landscape with a body of water in the foreground and mountains in the background under a cloudy sky. The text is centered in the middle of the image.

3) Sin leads to our redemption

The flood account is a powerful picture of the gospel

The flood account points us to God's grace and the need for our redemption and salvation

The Lord is not slow in keeping his promise, as some would understand slowness.
He is patient with you and not wanting anyone to perish, but with everyone to come to repentance.

2 Peter 3:9

One small sin, undealt with,
has the capacity to rot within us
and destroy our entire testimony.

Lord search me and know me,
see if you find any offensive way in me and lead me into the way everlasting.

Psalm 139:23-24

Let us hold on to the confession of our hope without wavering, since he who promised is faithful. ²⁴ And let us watch out for one another to provoke love and good works,

Hebrews 10:23-25

²⁵ not neglecting to gather together, as some are in the habit of doing, but encouraging each other, and all the more as you see the day approaching

Hebrews 10:23-25

A dark, stormy sea with a large wave crashing in the distance. The water is a deep, dark blue, and the sky is a lighter, hazy blue. The overall mood is somber and dramatic.

Like Noah, allow God to redeem you from your sin

Like Noah, allow God to save you from the judgement we each deserve
